ABOUT THE LEUKEMIA & LYMPHOMA SOCIETY: The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society is a national voluntary health agency dedicated to curing Leukemia, Lymphoma, Hodgkins's Disease and Myeloma, and to improving the quality of life of patients and their families. They provide professional guidance and help raising vitally needed funds.

The society funds research, patient services, public and professional educational programs, advocacy and community services. The society is proud to be one of the most efficiently managed non-profits in the country with more than 76 cents of every dollar being spent directly on mission related activities!
